Discussion	REMS program patient education – clarification that there is a pharmacy policy for this (MM-12) and patient education resources should be coming from links in the FDA website. See box to the right for details.	Use this link to find the FDA approved/required patient education. To ensure you have the current version, print in real time/as needed – do not print in advance and put in a drawer. https://www.accessdata.fda.gov/scripts/cder/remis/index.cfm Choose the drug you need and then click on the link that says ETASU – that takes you to the summary and patient education info. The link to the FDA page is also at the bottom on page 2 in MM-12.
Discussion	EPIC and patient education	Awaiting direction from leadership about what can/cannot be done. Some solutions require IT resources that may already be accounted for. Other solutions require better understanding work flows that are TBD.
